

My Heart

by Lewis Schofield (2005)

My heart was ripped out
By one girl.
She said, "I have a boyfriend.
His name is Nick."

That fateful day of January 13, 2005
She ripped out my heart
And used it for toilet paper
At her party.

When she had a party
She almost called me
To try to say she was sorry
But she didn't have the guts.

But then, ten years later,
When she was 19
She called me and said,
"I want to be your girlfriend again."

By then, all those years
Had passed by.
I had the great life;
I didn't even know she was sorry.

But then she was super sorry.

Then the guy named Nick
Fell into a big black hole.
